Proposed Peer Reviewers:

1. Dr Michael Pawson

Mike Pawson recently retired as senior fisheries advisor at CEFAS, Lowestoft, after 39 years. Between 1990 and 2002 Mike led the Cefas Western demersal team, providing analytical assessments and management advice for 12 finfish stocks. Mike was chairman of the ICES Southern Shelf Demersal Stock Assessment Working Group (1996-98), Seabass Study Group (2000-04) and Elasmobranch Study Group (2001-02). Mike has provided scientific evaluation, quality assurance and advice to several national and EC-funded projects on fisheries biology, monitoring and assessment, and one of his major roles over the last 15 years has been peer-reviewing scientific papers. All of Mike's work has been published in refereed Journals, in ICES and EC working group reports, and in contract reports.

2. Indrani Lutchman

Indrani Lutchman is the Head of IEEP's Sustainable Fisheries Programme, which focuses on tracking progress on the implementation of the EU Common Fisheries Policy. She is a marine biologist and fisheries scientist with over 17 years experience in designing and managing projects relating to Europe, the Caribbean, Antarctic and the United Kingdom that have contributed to the development of a range of policies, international treaties and multilateral environmental agreements (MEAs). She has extensive knowledge of and experience of working at a diplomatic level, within regional fisheries organisations, NGO networks and with the fishing industry. She has successfully led multinational policy research and interdisciplinary teams that delivered concrete results on global and regional levels. Her expertise covers diverse aspects of fisheries and environmental policies and includes both desk-based research as well as the provision of strategic and political advice.
