| Stakeholder Oriented          | • Strong focus on delivery of excellent customer service (including expectation management).
                          | • Evidence of ability to cultivate and manage relationships with colleagues, stakeholders, suppliers and collaborators successfully, with a people-centred approach to business and work essential.
                          | • Ability to gain credibility with, and the respect of, staff at all levels of the MSC. |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Organisational                | • Prior experience of working on projects would be useful, but excellent organisational skills are essential.
                          | • Ability to manage time and prioritise urgent and essential tasks, to ensure meeting tight deadlines.
                          | • Evidence of ability to operate and get results in a very busy environment with several tasks competing for priority – willingness to “go the extra mile”. |
| Communications                | • Excellent verbal and written communication skills, in both English and French, are essential.
                          | • Ability to write in a convincing and persuasive style for different audiences.
                          | • Experience preparing and delivering presentations and reports would be an advantage. |
| Personal attributes           | • High level of discretion, tact and diplomacy.
                          | • Able to take initiative when appropriate and with excellent attention to detail.
                          | • Flexible worker, able to manage complex and diverse workloads successfully.
                          | • Able to work on own, when necessary, but equally at home working as part of a team.
                          | • Confident, with ability to develop effective working relationships with people at all levels within the MSC, and its external stakeholders.
                          | • Creative-thinker and able to demonstrate problem-solving skills.
                          | • Empathy and interest in the MSC’s mission and objectives. |
